

Musculus levator anguli oris

A pipe burst in a doctor's house. He called a plumber. The plumber arrived, unpacked his tools, did mysterious plumber-type things for a while, and handed the doctor a bill for R6000.

The doctor exclaimed, "This is ridiculous! I don't even make that much as a doctor!"

The plumber waited for him to finish and quietly said, "Neither did I when I was a doctor."

Doctor: I have some bad news and some very bad news.

Patient: Well, you might as well give me the bad news first.

Doctor: I'm afraid the lab called with your test results. They said you only have 24 hours to live.

Patient: 24 HOURS! That's terrible! WHAT on earth could be WORSE news?

Doctor: I've been trying to reach you since yesterday.

Doctor: "I've got very bad news - you've got cancer and Alzheimer's"

Patient: "Well, at least I don't have cancer"

TOP TEN THINGS PATIENTS DON'T WANT TO HEAR IN SURGERY

1. Don't worry. I think it is sharp enough.
2. Nurse, did this patient sign the organs donation card?
3. Damn! Page 84 of the manual is missing!
4. Everybody stand back! I lost a contact lens!
5. Hand me that...uh...that uh.....thingie
6. Better save that. We'll need it for the autopsy.
7. Nurse, are you sure this is Mr Botha?
8. Whoa, wait a minute, if this is his spleen, then what's that?
9. "Ya know, there's big money in kidneys. Hell, he's got two of 'em
10. What do you mean "You want a divorce?"

A visitor was about to enter the hospital when he saw two white-coated doctors searching through the flower beds. "Excuse me," he said. "Have you lost something?". "No," replied one of the doctors. "We're doing a heart transplant for an income-tax inspector and want to find a suitable stone."

I was sitting in the waiting room of the hospital after my wife had gone into labour and the nurse walked out and said to the man sitting next to me, "Congratulations sir, you're the new father of twins!"

The man replied, "How about that, I work for the Doublemint Chewing Gum Company." The man then followed the woman to his wife's room.

About an hour later, the same nurse entered the waiting room and announced that Mr. Smith's wife has just had triplets. Mr. Smith stood up and said, "Well, how do ya like that, I work for the 3M Company."

The gentleman that was sitting next to me then got up and started to leave. When I asked him why he was leaving, he remarked, "I think I need a breath of fresh air."

The man continued, "I work for 7-UP."

Doctor: "It's no good. I can't find anything wrong with you. It must just be the effects of drinking."

Patient: "I'll come back when you're sober then!"

"Doctor, are you sure I'm suffering from pneumonia? I've heard once about a doctor treating someone with pneumonia and finally he died of typhus."

"Don't worry, it won't happen to me. If I treat someone with pneumonia he will die of pneumonia."

When the old GP and his attractive nurse arrived at the hotel where they had booked in for the duration of the conference, they were somewhat disconcerted to find that instead of the two single rooms they had requested, they had been booked into one twin-bedded room. Worse still, there were no other rooms available, so they had to make do with what had befallen.

That night, the old GP flung the windows wide for some fresh (but cold) air and climbed into bed. After a short while, the nurse announced she was cold, and would he please close the windows.

GP: "If you're cold would you like to pretend we're married?"

Nurse (giggling at the thought of sharing his bed): "Why, doctor, what an idea, but I don't mind if that's what you'd like."

GP: "Well then, YOU get up and close the blasted window!"
